

Meet Debi Zingone

Nurse Family Partnership at Project Self-Sufficiency

Debi Zingone is a nurse with the Nurse-Family Partnership program at Project Self-Sufficiency.

Although Debi knew from a very young age that health care was her calling, she worked in a variety of professions before obtaining her nursing degree. Now Debi has been able to use her life experience, combined with her medical training, to help the women in her care to achieve healthy pregnancies, build strong relationships, and work towards financial security and family stability.

“Helping my clients realize their strengths, and use those strengths to achieve their heart’s desire, is my greatest reward.”
